Subject: Signing Proctor House Contract

Statement of Issue:

The attached Proctor Home Contract confirms the county's relationship with Kelli Parcher as Proctor House Coordinator for an additional two years.

Analysis:

The Proctor House, an alternative detention facility, is a key component of the graduated sanction approach for Jefferson County youth. It is also the facility that manages all the detention for our status-offenders, who should, absent a severe reason to the contrary, receive a less-secure response from the Court when found in civil contempt. The Proctor House serves youth who do not need the secure confinement provided by our contracted beds at Kitsap County Juvenile Detention and thus eliminates overuse of the beds we have contracted for in that more secure setting.

Ms. Parcher has been the Coordinator for the Proctor House for over 10 years. This funds supporting the Proctor House have already been included in my 2012 budget.

Alternatives:

Increase our contract for standard detention beds to somewhere between 8 and 11 beds for an overall increase in the detention budget for Juvenile Services.

Fiscal Impact:

Contract amount already included in my 2012 budget.

Recommendation:

That the BOCC sign the Contract for Kelli's services as the Proctor Home Coordinator as presented.

RE: Sole Source Contractor – Proctor House Coordinator

This is to advise you that at this time I consider Kelli S. Parcher to be currently a sole source provider in Jefferson County for coordination of the Proctor House, an alternative detention program and facility for youth offenders. Ms. Parcher meets the requirements of this position with regard to her work experience directly related to serving youth in a corrections environment, her extensive training in first line supervision of offenders and her length of experience with at-risk youth and years of experience supervising staff in a detention setting.

If this position had to be put out to bid, we would most likely have to seek individuals outside of Jefferson County for somebody who not only had the experience of Ms. Parcher, but more importantly, the desire to facilitate a unique program like the Proctor House. Ms. Parcher has been involved in the program since it was first put out to bid after Jim and Marsha Eades resigned, and has remained the individual managing the program for over ten years. It would be a great disservice to the youth of Jefferson County and of problematic impact for my department to put this position out to bid at this time.

CONTRACT

JEFFERSON COUNTY PROCTOR HOUSE STANDARDS
AND EXPECTATIONS

November 2011

ATTACHMENT A: SCOPE OF CONTRACTOR SERVICES

PROCTOR HOUSE STANDARDS

I. PURPOSE

The Proctor House is a private House where juveniles referred from Juvenile Court serve mandated detention time. While in the House, juveniles will receive tutorial support, drug and alcohol counseling and assistance, occupational and life skills exposure, as well as other appropriate programs and services. These services will either be provided by Proctor House Staff or by referring to appropriate local service providers. The Proctor House is a model project offering an alternative to traditional detention. It is part of a continuum of detention options ranging from electronic home monitoring to secure juvenile detention facilities. The Proctor House has security and programmatic standards that are detailed in this document.

II. POPULATION TO BE SERVED

The Proctor House shall be available as a detention alternative for selected low and/or moderate-risk offenders and status offenders (Youth at Risk, Truancy, CHINS, and dependents) who are ordered by the court to serve detention time.

Youth referred to the court by the Department of Children and Family Services (dependency cases) may not be placed in the Proctor House unless they are the subject of a contempt proceeding and are ordered remedial sanctions including detention as a part of the court order.

III. REFERRALS:

The statewide CMAP Risk Assessment is performed on each offender referral to juvenile court. The results of this risk assessment will be used to assist in determining the appropriateness for placement of offender youth in the Proctor House. A detention risk assessment shall be completed on each non-offender youth sentenced to detention as well as the statewide adopted mental health screening for use in a detention setting. The risk assessment will take into consideration such factors as criminal history (if any), compliance with terms of the court order, participation in school and treatment programs, and mental health needs, in making a recommendation regarding eligibility for detention alternative programs. The Juvenile Court Administrator (hereinafter referred to as JCA) or designee shall have final say in all placement decisions.

The Judge or Court Commissioner may authorize less restrictive alternatives for a youth to serve detention time. This may include the Proctor House. The Proctor House Program Coordinator (hereinafter referred to as the PH Coordinator) has the right to refuse any referral from Jefferson County Juvenile and Family Court for good cause.

IV. SERVICE GOALS FOR THE PROCTOR HOUSE

1. To reduce the use of traditional detention for low and certain moderate-risk offender and non-offender youth (status offenders). This allows Jefferson County's few contracted detention beds in neighboring counties to be used for higher-risk youth needing a secure detention environment.
2. To provide a structured, pro-social, environment where youth can work on issues such as family conflict, alcohol and drug addition, mental health issues and school non-compliance.

4. To provide a cost-effective detention alternative service.
